The second group of Katimavik participants are in Minden now and have been involved in a number of projects. In addition to park and arena maintenance some members of the group have helped dismantle the shed on the Welch property, Main Street. After stripping away the covering boards, the shell of hand hewn beams, held in place by pegs, was revealed. Shown here with the skeleton of the building showing are, from the left, Manon Rioux of Maple Grove, Quebec, Vikki Harriss of Woodstock, Ontario, Steve Flett of Oshawa and Andre LaRouche of Cowansville, Quebec.

First defeat for Junior Redmen as season ends

After remaining undefeated throughout the season the HHSS junior Redmen football team were knocked out of the playoffs by Adam Scott High School from Peterborough.

The Kawartha District Championship game was played on Monday afternoon in Haliburton.

The Redmen went ahead on their first possession after an 80 yard punt return by Mike Blake who played a strong two way game throughout the afternoon.

After Adam Scott received the kick they marched out of their end then broke loose and scored their first TD. The conversion made the score 7-6 for Peterborough.

Mike McNaull then scored the Redmen's second touchdown on a 25 yard sweep to end the first quarter.

Adam Scott started the second quarter deep in their own end and marched downfield to score their second touchdown. After the conversion they added one more point on a kick deep into the Redmen's end zone.

The ball changed hands a number of times because of the strong defensive play by both clubs.

Then Adam Scott broke through the line and scored

Police investigate series of break-ins

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police have been busy recently investigating a large number of thefts. Some are of a minor nature while others involve substantial property value. The following items are on the missing list:

- a colour television, computer game, stereo and 30 tapes valued at $1450 taken from a Pine Lake cottage November 1.

- a framed picture valued at $75 taken from a Minden Hotel November 1.

- a Poulan chainsaw valued at $500 taken from a house near Gooderham November 2.

- two bicycles valued at $290 taken from Haliburton Senior Elementary School on November 2, later recovered.

- a white enamel wood stove, a 9.9 h.p. Johnson outboard motor and three sleeping bags, valued at $960 taken from a hunt camp in Hindon Township November 2.

- a replica of a .45 calibre handgun valued at $50 taken from a Minden residence November 4.

- a trailer tire valued at $75 taken from a yard in Minden November 5.

- a stereo equalizer and a number of tapes valued at $60 taken from a car in West Guilford November 6. The same car was the target of thieves two weeks earlier when the stereo speakers were removed.

The total value of the stolen property was $3460.

Revolver recovered

The revolver missing from the home of an Ontario Provincial Police Constable in Minden has been recovered. The firearm was found by police Saturday evening. No other details regarding the incident have been released as the matter is still under investigation.

Accidents

The sudden snow storm Friday caught a number of drivers by surprise resulting in several accidents.

A single car mishap on Highway 118 near the entrance to Camp White Pine resulted in $3500 damage to a vehicle being driven by Gregory Kennedy of West Guilford. The man lost control of the vehicle and it slid off the road, into the ditch striking some rocks after rolling over.

The driver and passenger, Joyce Jordan, 20, also of West Guilford sustained minor injuries and were treated at Haliburton Red Cross Hospital.

Constable Dave MacMartin was the investigating officer.

A two vehicle accident occurred the same afternoon on Horseshoe Lake Road One in Minden Township. Harry Fountain, 56, of Haliburton was southbound when he started to lose control of his vehicle. The truck slammed into a second being driven by Roland Barrick, 21 of Minden.

Fountain, and a passenger in the Barrick vehicle, Joe Gohm, 45, of Minden, received minor injuries. The vehicles sustained $3300 damage.

The mishap was investigated by Constable Barry Connelly.

Special enforcement team
Twenty-two charges relating to seat belts and one of driving while disqualified have been laid by the traffic enforcement team as it concentrated its efforts on the Minden area Saturday evening. The team of four officers is visiting various detachments in the Peterborough District. The team visits at unscheduled times and will be in operation for the month of November.

Sentenced

A term of three months plus a one year probation period has been levied against a Minden man after he was found guilty of break, enter and theft. The man appeared in Provincial court November 2.

Brett Porter was charged with the break-in of the County garage and the theft of three chain saws.

The man was also convicted of wilful damage in regard to damage done to an apartment in Minden. Porter was sentenced to an additional month in jail. The incident occurred October 14.

Remembrance Services

A number of special services will be held throughout Haliburton County to mark Remembrance Day 1983.

On November 11 a service will be held at the Haliburton Legion Hall beginning at 10 a.m. Following the service, the Legion members and other groups wishing to take part, will march to the cenotaph for a wreath laying and a service of Remembrance. A luncheon will follow at the Legion Hall.

On Friday as well, the Wilberforce Legion will be hosting a Remembrance Day service. The parade will form up at the firehall in Wilberforce, marching to the war memorial at the Lloyd Watson Centre. Following the service at the memorial, a lunch will be served at the Wilberforce Legion Hall.

Two services are also planned for Sunday, November 13.

In Minden the parade will form at the Minden Community Centre. The parade will be led by the Legion Pipe Band. Any groups wishing to take part are invited to participate. The parade will form at 10:30 a.m. and reach the Cairn beside the Library-Cultural Centre at 11 o'clock. Following the service there, the parade will return to the community centre where a lunch will be served.

In Kinmount on Sunday, the parade will form at 10:30 at the Legion Hall. The parade will march to the memorial for the laying of wreaths and service of remembrance. The parade will return to the Legion Hall following the service where a lunch will be served.

Eakins continues with probe

During the past two weeks John Eakins, M.P.P., has taken the Rural Task Force to Kirkland Lake and Hanover, and has been overwhelmed at the response of the people wanting to attend and comment on proposals for life in rural Ontario.

Mr. Eakins said that with every meeting, more and more farmers are attending and discussing their needs with the task force members.

He went on to say, "In our travels throughout Ontario we have become aware of the serious economic problems that continue to face much of our agriculture industry. These problems are acute in the red meat sectors, specifically the beef industry. With livestock prices low and crop prices and other input costs high, many of our farmers may be left to harvest nothing more than bankruptcies this fall.

"It is my belief that without some emergency financial assistance from our government, part of the beef industry will quickly be lost to Ontario and shift to other provinces. We were told that the Quebec beef stabilization program offers a total of $191.60 per cow and $165.00 for each feeder animal taken to slaughter. With these levels of government guarantees, our farmers cannot hope to compete with Quebec farmers who are coming here to purchase cattle, and who can afford to pay more.

"It was brought out by those attending our meetings that our beef producers need emergency assistance now in order to keep them in production. If there is to be a stabilization program, they want beef producers assured now that there will be an announcement for a stabilization price made retroactive for this year. I feel it is necessary that any such program must cover all sectors of the beef industry, including cow, calf, stockers and slaughter cattle."

Introduce your oil furnace to add-on electric heat and introduce yourself to substantial oil savings.

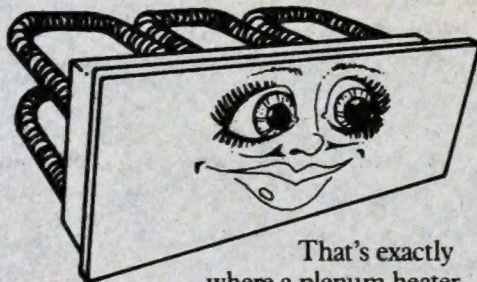

Kissing that old flame goodbye isn't the only way to reduce your oil consumption. If that oil furnace is still in good shape, you can take advantage of converting to a dual energy heating system.

Instead of replacing your furnace, introduce it to an electric plenum heater, heat pump, electric boiler or baseboard heaters. These dual energy systems let oil and electricity work in harmony to heat your home more efficiently and more economically. Operation is simple. The electric system works until the coldest winter days, then your oil furnace automatically takes over.

In most cases, add-on electric heat will reduce oil consumption by up to 75%. Even more in some cases. And a reduction of that magnitude can make a dramatic difference to the total cost of heating your home.

The Plenum Heater

The "plenum" is the warm air chamber at the top of your forced air oil furnace.

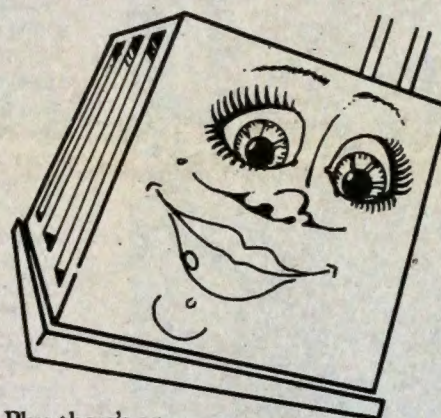

That's exactly where a plenum heater is installed. So that on most days, the fan circulates more economical, electrically generated heat.

The Heat Pump

Even on cold winter nights, there is still warmth in the outside air. Just like a refrigerator, the heat pump extracts that warmth and pumps it into your home.

Plus there's an added bonus. In the summer, your heat pump works in reverse and becomes a central air conditioner.

The Electric Boiler

If you have an oil fueled hot water heating system, there's another alternative. You simply add an electric boiler.

It's no bigger than a small suitcase and can be easily installed.

Baseboard Heaters

Electric baseboards can also be used as a dual energy system. They're installed in individual rooms to quietly handle most of the heating load.

The Time is Right

Today is definitely the time to investigate the savings of introducing your oil furnace to an add-on electric system. The COSP (Canada Oil Substitution Program) grant will pay for half of the installed cost or $800, whichever is less, on all systems where oil consumption is reduced by 50% or more.

To find out more about the benefits of a dual energy system, contact your local Hydro or electric heating contractor today and ask them about special assistance that could lead to even greater savings. And tell your furnace to get ready for a warm and meaningful relationship this winter.

Education cost lowest at Archie Stouffer

The cost of educating one student at Archie Stouffer Elementary School, based on 1983 budget figures, is lower than at any other elementary school in the county. This fact was brought to light in figures prepared by the Haliburton County Board of Education.

According to the statistics, it costs $2290.75 per pupil for each of the 421 students attending the Minden

The report also showed that the most expensive education, in terms of cost per pupil, is being provided at the Dorset Public School. With an enrolment of 19 it is costing $4376.96 per pupil for 1983.

At the same meeting the board accepted the minutes of a special projects committee which included a recommendation that the community of Dorset be informed that the school in that community, "Is a candidate for closure on June 30, 1985".

The following chart outlines the per pupil costs in each of the seven elementary schools operated by the Haliburton County Board of Education.

Stanhope asks County to assume Buckslide Road

At the Wednesday November 2 meeting of the Stanhope Council a recommendation was endorsed and forwarded to the County Roads Department requesting that the county assume control of the Buckslide Road. The resolution was in response to a request from the county road committee for suggestions for the coming year.

Bailiff

In further business Council passed a resolution to retain the services of A. O. Shingler Bailiff Collection Services to collect outstanding tax arrears owed to the township.

Ski trails

In a report from the recreation committee John Barclay informed council that members of the Ontario Cross Country Ski Association had toured the existing ski trails in the township and judged them to be "an excellent start" on a larger network of trails.

The Association rated the trails in the intermediate to expert class.

Trail maintenance

Clerk Gerald Bain reported that the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation will be providing a grant to hire two people from the township to maintain the cross country trails this winter. The employees will be hired in January at no cost to the municipality under the Winter Experience Program.

Disputes settled

Council Chambers turned into a forum for resolving neighbourly disagreements when a number of area residents brought their disputes before council.

Although council decided that it did not have jurisdiction in matters being discussed, the councillors were able to lend their assistance in settling the conflicts between neighbours. As a result of one of the disputes council noted that all fences built on a road allowance should be removed to allow all parties access to their adjacent property.

Thanks

Several letters from summer residents were read before council thanking the township for instituting and sponsoring a summer day camp.

It was noted that there has been a great deal of support for the camp which had over 35 children under 12 years old registered this past summer.

Honouring the commitment

The ceremonies this Friday and Sunday in communities across the country will hold special significance for many Canadians. For them Remembrance Day is a time for recalling loved ones and friends who gave their lives in defense of this country.

The thanks offered for their sacrifice should not only come from those who knew the soldiers who died in battle. We all must respect their contribution because we all share in the results of their efforts. And that respect, though specifically meant for those who died, must also go out to those who fought and lived to enjoy the freedoms of our system of government.

As we pause this week, we should remember that November 11 was set aside on a day when peace was achieved. War is not glorious, it is not something to be revered. The individuals who died did so not because they enjoyed conflict, but rather because they sought to bring peace to the world.

The poem "Flanders Fields" speaks of a torch being passed on. The message of that torch today is to be vigilant, to allow peace to prevail, not to be caught up in another world conflict.

The world must honour that commitment.

Support for homes

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

At long last, the Government has responded to the report of the Standing Committee on Social Development on Wife Battering.

It has announced a series of initiatives which it claims would help combat this growing problem. The initiatives include: an extra $4 million for transition houses to serve battered women and their children plus a guarantee that no provincially-supported emergency shelter for these women will be closed for lack of funding next year; appointment of a provincial co-ordinator for family violence to help ensure adequate services are available; organization of a public education program and a major provincial conference on wife battering; efforts to convince the federal government to change provisions of the Immigration Act which often place battered immigrant wives at the mercy of their husbands, because their right to remain in Canada often depends on the sponsorship of the husband.

Liberal Leader David Peterson welcomed the Government's announcement, but expressed his concern that it has chosen to ignore the two fundamental issues of the Report: the need for block funding and the need for comprehensive legislation dealing with transition houses.

Our Party has sent a questionnaire to interval and transition houses in Ontario to elicit response to the Standing Committee's report. Fifty per cent have responded and every single response has indicated a desire for block funding. The Standing Committee recommended block funding, which would guarantee that the houses have a fixed income each year to cover operating costs as well as room and board.

Hydro

David Peterson told the Legislature that there have been 97 "significant events" at Pickering Hydro nuclear station in the past nine months, including four "hazardous leaks". These 97 incidents - about the same number as in other similar time periods - were "untoward things that could lead to more trouble". They

Editor's note: The following is an open letter to Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

Dear Mr. Trudeau:

Re: Peace Initiative.

Recent news of your offer to act as an intermediary between the nuclear powers is most welcome to me.

It is evident that negotiations between the most powerful in this world are progressing at an unsatisfactory rate. This is not news, of course, but the means of destruction are so great now that more effort to bring peace is needed than ever before.

Personally, I view peace as the most important issue today. The failure to maintain peace and stability, is so often the main cause of many other major problems, such as the refugee situation, hunger, human rights violations and poverty. For it is only in a stable political environment that these concerns can be addressed.

Whenever an attempt is made to effect change or to try something new, the criticism and negativism that ensues is often astounding, and sometimes overwhelming. You will, no doubt, face such opposition in your present undertaking. This short note is to let you know that I, and surely many other Canadians who may not take the time to write you, am with you all the way on this. I wish the average Canadian had the opportunity to take a greater personal part in your endeavour.

Mr. Trudeau, your initiatives in North-South issues and peace negotiations clearly indicate vision that few political leaders possess. Keep up the good work on these fronts, on behalf of our country and our world.

Gary L. Thurston,
Minden.

Lest we forget

Remember the children - they died too

This essay was the winning entry in the junior division of the Royal Canadian Legion essay contest. It was written by Hillary Chen of Oshawa.

It is a cool November morning in a little village in Holland. People are hurrying along the little cobblestone streets. Everyone is carrying their few belongings as they try to escape from the war that is approaching their village. There is noise of guns and hand grenades off in the distance.

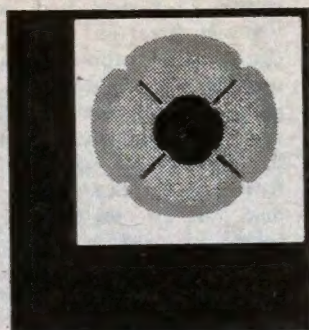

In a neatly kept house there is a woman sitting at a table, her hands folded in prayer. In front of her is a picture of her husband who has gone to fight in the war. She remembers how hard they had to work and save to buy their little house. How they watched the tulips grow and bloom and then fade away. She remembers all the happy times they had together and now it is all gone. Tears begin to stream down her face.

She looks across the room. On the cleanly swept floor is a little girl playing happily with an old rag doll. She gently hugs it and sings lullabys to it. She is so young that she is not aware of the happenings that are going on outside.

Suddenly the noise gets louder and louder. The little girl terrified and frightened runs to her mother. The mother holds on to her daughter tightly. The little girl clasps on to her rag doll, afraid to let it go. There is nowhere to hide, nowhere to go, nowhere to run. Bombs are falling outside, people are screaming, running frantically about. Then, in a flash, it is all over.

It is night. The stars are twinkling in the clear sky. The moon dimly shines upon the little village in Holland below. All that is left is a scene of devastation and destruction. People, still shocked and terrified, huddle together, not to escape the chilling cold but to comfort each other. In the distance the noise of the guns, the rumble of the tanks gradually fades away.

Amidst the smoldering rubble of a once proud home there lies a little, tattered rag doll. Now there are no more tears, there is no more joy, there is no more laughter — only silence.

The items shown here are part of the collection of memorabilia on display at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery.

Walter Noice: one of the Legion's earliest members

The Haliburton Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion has among its number one of the earliest members of the national organization, Walter Noice.

Mr. Noice is a veteran of the First World War who joined the Great War Veterans Association after returning from overseas after being wounded. A short time later the Royal Canadian Legion was formed and the members of the GWVA were included in the Legion's membership.

In addition to being one of the first to join the newly created organization, Mr. Noice is a charter member of Branch 129 in Haliburton. He joined the local organization in 1928.

Walter Noice is a native of Minden. Before travelling out west he worked in this community assisting Dr. Pogue who operated the local drug store. At that time minor surgical operations were carried out in the back of the drug store. Walter Noice was hired to clean up after the doctor.

During his stint at the drug store he became familiar with medical terminology and equipment. The knowledge stood him in good stead when he travelled to Winnipeg. In search of employment he answered an advertisement seeking a medical equipment salesman. He got the job and worked until 1915 when he enlisted.

Mr. Noice first joined the Tenth Field Ambulance and was later transferred to the medical staff of the Seventy-fifth Battalion, now known as the Toronto Scottish.

While overseas he saw action in France and Belgium taking part in the battles of Vimy Ridge, Ypres and Somme. After 14 months he was wounded and returned to England for treatment and recuperation.

He recalls fondly the hospital where he stayed. It was the former Astor Estate near Windsor Castle, which had been converted into a medical facility.

Ironically one of the first individuals he met while staying in the hospital was his brother Bill. Bill had been in a different battalion and having been wounded was being treated at the same facility.

During his recuperation Mr. Noice was invited to visit at Windsor Castle. He still cherishes the invitation and recalls spending an interesting afternoon touring the castle in the company of the King's sister.

Mr. Noice returned to Canada in 1917 and was transferred to the Davisville Hospital in Toronto. Once again coincidence created an interesting twist. Here he met his sister who was working as a nurse at the hospital.

His discharge paper, hanging proudly on his living room wall in his Lutterworth Estates home, is signed by King George.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

It began just as I was sitting back from a delightful dinner with friends. An innocent itch around my ankle. Thinking nothing of it at the time, it wasn't until I'd returned to the privacy of home that I discovered the truth. By that time, I was scratching hard and, sure enough, there were the little red signatures of those uninvited fall house guests -- fleas.

Fleas aren't a subject for polite conversation, I know. But in one respect they're no different from the mosquitoes, horse flies, deer flies, gnats and insects we go on about all summer long; they bite, in some cases with serious consequences. So we might as well stop squirming sheepishly in our seats and talk about how to find relief.

The way to controlling the common flea which comes indoors along with the family pet in late summer, early fall, is an understanding of its life cycle. Adult fleas prefer your pet's blood to your own. After breeding, the female lays eggs in the animal's bedding, cracks in the floor or other nooks and crannies. A few days later the eggs hatch larvae, which feed for several weeks on dried organic matter (such as the excreta of adult fleas) before retiring into cocoons. Adult fleas emerge from this pupal stage in one week to a year, depending on the temperature, and in this way are able to survive our harsh winter.

The point is, flea collars and pet treatments alone won't rid your house of these pests. Despite all the misery they cause, fleas only spend 10% of their time feeding on your animals and, occasionally, you. The other 90% is spent borrowing your home to raise their families. And they've got pretty good survival skills. Not only can their tiny legs propel them out of harm's way on 13 inch leaps; they have been known to survive without food for as long as six years. Then too, they typically breed fast enough to keep ahead of all but the most persistent chemical campaigns.

So when fleas come home for lunch with your dog or cat they'll likely want to stay the night. Fortunately, since I don't have a pet, my encounter ended with a hot shower for me and a washing machine for my clothes. But for those of you who have animals, be prepared to treat both them and every room in your house for a period of time until frost kills the fleas outside and puts an end to their migration indoors. For advice on persistent infestations you may wish to consult a veterinarian.

Art and memorabilia highlight newest show

by Michael Shirley

In a world that seems to be full of dirty little wars Canadians are fortunate to be at peace.

Perhaps no one realizes this more than the veterans of the two World Wars.

In honour of the men and women who participated in Canada's war effort, the Agnes Jamieson Gallery and the Rails' End Gallery are presenting a special collection of military art and memorabilia.

The paintings and pencil drawings shown at both galleries are the work of Toronto artist John Leonard, whose works have been shown in exhibitions all across Canada. He has also taught at schools throughout Ontario including the Haliburton School of Fine Arts.

Although military art is not "popular" in contemporary society it is perhaps understandable that the artist is presently working on a series of war-related paintings since both his father and grandfather were in the services and the artist himself was born at home during an air raid in England.

What is most striking about Leonard's work is the life-like realism of his paintings. People examining his intimate studies of military badges and medals have caught themselves trying to straighten a folded piece of paper or remove a piece of tape that appears to be stuck to the canvas.

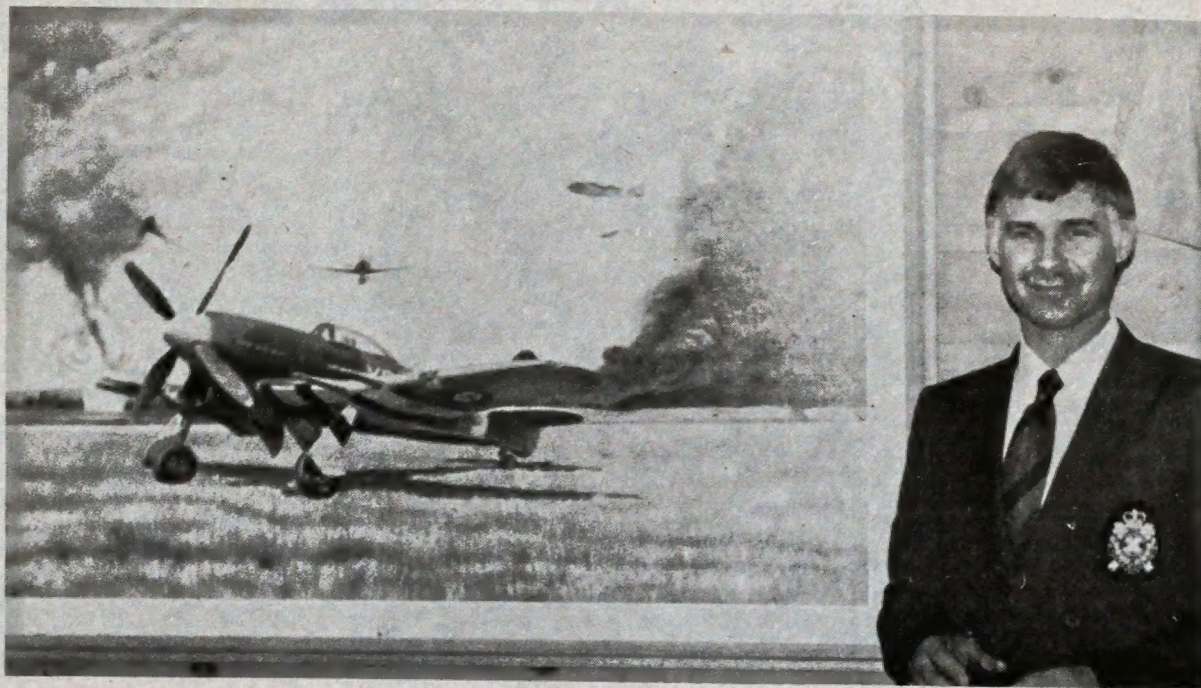

However, the paintings are more than just literal representations. There is in some of the paintings an air of imminent destruction, in others a sense of freedom.

The artist has the ability to draw the viewer into the scene. We can feel the exhaustion of the men in the trenches or sense the massive power of a destroyer.

It is the artist's hope that by examining war we can understand it and learn to avoid future conflicts.

Besides the works of John Leonard, the two galleries are displaying a collection of photographs and souvenirs of the two World Wars loaned by the members of the Legion Branch 129 in Haliburton.

The photographs of the carefree young men and women do not convey the horror and destruction of war that they later encountered but as one veteran observed "we try to forget everything that was tough, but we remember the good times".

The service and campaign medals offer a reminder of the tough times and the fact that the wars often brought out the best in people.

And finally a death certificate sent to the family of a soldier who died in action reminds us that many of those who fought lost not only their youth but their lives as well.

The exhibition continues until November 19 in Minden and November 23 in Haliburton.

Remember the vets

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

As a Federal Member of Parliament, I deal quite often with the Department of Veterans Affairs. In doing so, I am representing veterans who fought in three wars for Canada and their survivors.

On November 11th, we remember those who returned as well as the 110,000 who did not return from foreign shores. In the First World War to end all wars which ended 65 years ago, 66,655 of our fellow Canadians gave up their lives for us. In the Second World War, 45,000 joined their comrades beneath foreign soil to keep our land free from bondage. A further 516 Canadian names are inscribed in the Korean Books of Remembrance as a result of our serving as a part of the United Nations Peacekeeping Force in the Korean War.

Only 740,000 men and women war veterans now remain in Canada. Of these, less than 30,000 are veterans of World War I. A further 273,000 widows of veterans are registered with Veterans Affairs. I ask you to think of their sacrifices this week.

On November 11, 1918, the Armistice was declared bringing an end to the First World War. Sixty-five years later, this Friday, we will gather at cenotaphs across the nation to share in Remembrance Day ceremonies. In your moment of silence on that day remember Vimy and Passchendaele of the first war, remember

Dieppe and D Day of the second war and remember Chail-Li and Hill 355 of the Korean War. Canadians gave distinguished service in these battles and many of them remained there. We must remember, "Lest we forget".

Junior season over

on a 60 yard run.

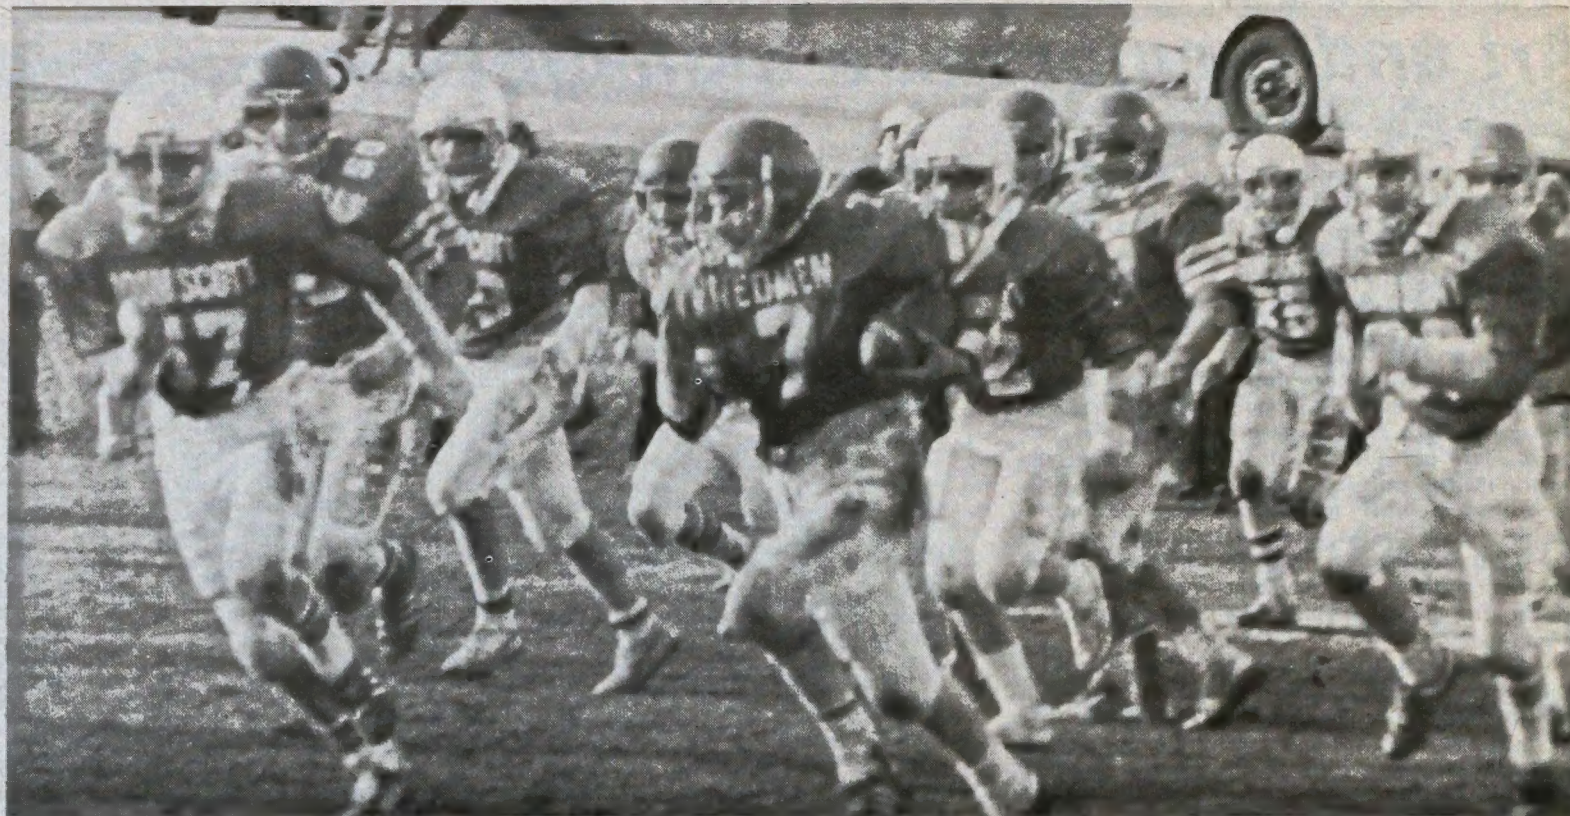

Trevor Powers gained a point for the Redmen early in the fourth quarter on a wide kick before Peterborough put the game out of reach after recovering a fumble and marching the ball in for a touchdown.

The final score was 29-13 for Peterborough.

Redmen coach Gary Brohman was naturally disappointed with the loss but felt the players had given "their personal best".

The coach of the Adam Scott team stated that it was the toughest game he had seen in 7 years of coaching and added that in such a closely matched game it was the team that got the breaks that won.

The Junior Redmen end their season as champions of the Kawartha West Division.

Mike McNaull, no. 7, sweeps past the Adam Scott defense on the way to a touchdown. The Junior Redmen winners of the Kawartha West Championship had their best season to date but lost the district championship game 29-13 on Monday in a close, hard hitting contest.

Tuesday night at the rink

by Justin Kidding

Another great season is underway as thirty-two avid curlers donned their gear and muddled through four mildly exciting games last week.

As there are nine teams entered in this ten-week first schedule, one team must alternately sit out each week. By the luck of the draw and some implied corrupt scheduling, the Paul Mayo foursome took the spectator's seats last week. At the end of the evening, a couple of teams that played would probably have preferred to trade places with Paul and his crew.

Jerry Pillsworth, although icing a stacked team (a small sum was rumoured to have changed hands), couldn't pull it out as the John Dicker foursome eked out a 6-5 victory. The ever-humble Dicker declared it to be "just one of the man wins that he'll post this season", while Jerry saw a great future for his team of novices.

Meanwhile, on the sheet next to Jerry, Bill Obee and his teammates were giving the Dwight Thomas quartet a sound thrashing, finally prevailing 13-8, although the game was much more distant than the score would indicate. Reminiscent of the Hamilton Tiger Cats playing in I Never Win (Ivor Wynne) Stadium, Dwight managed to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory as he failed to capitalize on his numerous last rock opportunities. On the other hand, Obee, assuming Herb Gill was running the bar, had brought Gill in to throw vice rocks. Although Herb curled well, it was rumoured that the presence of a septagendarian with decades of experience had unnerved and intimidated the Thomas rink. It was erroneously reported that Dwight's team of Bill, Rick and Murray had refused to sit with their skip after the humiliating defeat.

Talk of a simmering rebellion was also heard over on ice one as Stan Blears humbled the bill Roodenburg squad by an 8-3 count. Stan managed to win seven of the eight ends, despite the fact he did not have last rock for much of the contest. Ever generous in victory, Stan allowed that his team had curled well and "why shouldn't they win". Meanwhile, Bill admitted to having some problems locating the broom but promised to be back in top form next week. That the Roodenburg rink was seen to be sitting with the Thomas team after the game is probably an unsubstantiated report.

Out of the mainstream and playing in the boon-docks known as ice four, Jim Burton and crew faced off against an oft-time winner and perennial contender, J. O. Jackson and supporting cast. It was a see-saw contest with Jack finally subduing the stubborn Burton team, 6-3. It was as much a war of wits as a curling contest as both skips tried to match the temperature of the ice with their steely intensity. In fact, everyone was so wrapped up in the game, that a house was cleared before the final stone had been delivered.

An agreement was graciously resolved and the game continued only to be interrupted by the dehumidifier as it attempted to work properly for the first time in its three year

Atom

These first two game reports were intended for last week's edition.

Minden and Haliburton Atoms appeared to be faced with a repeat performance of last year with both teams evenly matched. The teams played October 28 to a 2-2 tie. David Lee and Robie Ackerblade scored for Minden with Aaron Hie having a strong game in nets for the local squad. Hunter Obee also turned in a good game for the Minden team.

The following afternoon, Minden defeated Humphrey by a 7-3 margin. Scoring for Minden were: Robie Ackerblade unassisted; Oliver Greer unassisted; Jamie Dollo from David Lee; Darren Sawyer from David Lee; Darren Sawyer from Randy Bull; Randy Bull from David Lee; and Randy Bull from Jason Todd. Aaron Hie recorded the win in nets for Minden. A strong defensive game was turned in by Kevin Buchanan.

Bantam

The Minden Bantams took a 8-2 loss at the hands of Gravenhurst Saturday afternoon in Minden.

Gravenhurst captured a two goal lead in the first period and didn't look back. Minden goals came from Aaron Davis, unassisted and Tom MacLeod who scored from Aaron Davis. The Huntsville team was assessed 16 minutes in penalties while Minden received only four.

Midget

Saturday afternoon, the Midgets hosted Bracebridge at the Minden arena.

Haliburton opened the scoring, when Tran LaRue burned one past everyone at the 14:22 mark. The balance of the period belonged to Bracebridge, who swapped ends with an easy 3 to 1 lead.

The second period saw Bracebridge pop two more into the net, while Haliburton was getting their game straightened out. They rang a few off the goal posts and finally Tran LaRue fired in his second from Andy Miller and Mike MacNaull, ending the period on the short end of a 5 to 2 score.

The third period saw the Haliburton team taking over the play, but again, goal posts rang as Bracebridge goalie Norm Webb was both hot and lucky. Despite the edge in play, Haliburton managed only one goal as Dennis McKee put one in from Mike MacNaull and Bracebridge skated off 5 to 3 winners.

Juveniles

Minden defeated Gravenhurst 9-5 in a game played Thursday in Gravenhurst. Goal scorers for Minden included: Bob Edge from Jeff Bain; Kevin Hamilton from Scot Hamilton and Boomer Stamp; Jim McKelvey from Jeff Bain and Scot Hamilton; Scot Hamilton unassisted; Boomer Stamp from Kevin Hamilton and Jeff Bain; Doug Schell from Eldon Bull; Boomer Stamp with two, one unassisted and the other assisted by Kevin Hamilton and Shayne Yate-man; and Doug Schell from Shayne Yate-man.

In the Friday evening game at the Minden arena, the local team defeated Humphrey by a 10-7 spread.

Scot Hamilton led the way for Minden scoring five goals and assisting on two others. Other goal getters included Daryl Ward, Shayne Yate-man, Bob Edge, John McKelvey and Kevin Hamilton. Jim McKelvey and Scott Yake also assisted in the scoring.

Note

Players and team officials wishing to see reports of their games in the Puck Talk column are reminded that game reports should be turned over to Bob Wells at the arena or Shirley Walker at the Stedmans Store.

The schedule

A Huntsville Atom comes to the aid of his fallen goalie, but he was too late to prevent the Minden players, in light jerseys, from scoring. The Minden Atoms went on to win the contest 4-3. The team repeated the performance the next day in Port Carling.

Double victories for Haliburton Huskies

The Haliburton North-ernways Huskies came up with a pair of wins over the weekend in two closely contested games.

Friday night's game in Midland against the Centennials was a see-saw battle that ended with the Huskies ahead 6 - 5. Dave Nicholls opened the scoring with an unassisted goal at the 37 second mark of the first period. Midland evened the score 10 minutes later then Nicholls put the Huskies ahead again on a power play goal. Midland tied the game at the end of the first period.

Halfway through the second period Scott Arbuthnot added another goal only to have Midland draw even 3 minutes later. Boomer Stamp finished off the second period with a short handed goal.

The Centennials bounced right back with a goal after 26 seconds of the third period to even the score again Dave Nicholls then connected on his third goal of the night before Midland tied the game at 5 - 5.

Although the Centennials outshot the Huskies 17 - 7 in the third period they were unable to beat netminder Colin Newell who had his usual strong game. Dave Nicholls put the Huskies ahead 6 - 5 on his fourth goal of the game and the final score of the night.

On Saturday evening the Huskies entertained the largest crowd of the season with a come from behind win. They defeated the Stayner Siskins 8 - 6 at the Dysart Arena.

The Siskins hardly waited for the National Anthem to end before they started popping in goals. The Huskies were caught completely off guard allowing 4 goals in the first 6 minutes. Boomer Stamp kept things respectable with two power play goals. After Colin Newell replaced Dave Storey in goal the Siskins fired in to more shots.

In the last minute of the first period Scott Arbuthnot bounced one in off the mast. At that point the Huskies were behind by 3 goals.

Boomer Stamp and Tony Sheffee put the Huskies on the right track early in the second period with a goal apiece. Stayner put a lot of pressure on the Huskie defense, but couldn't put together a co-ordinated attack. The last line of defense, goaltender Colin Newell blocked every shot and put on another fine display of stand up goaltending.

Huskies forward Jeff "Boomer" Stamp blasts a shot at the Stayner goalie in Saturday night's game. Boomer was the top goal scorer for Haliburton as they overcame a four goal deficit to win the game 8-6. It was the second win for the Huskies in two nights.

Then the Huskies went on the offense again, tying the game on Bernie Upton's goal. Dave Nicholls assist was his fifth of the game.

After playing two men short for over a minute the Huskies went ahead for the first time in the game on Tony Sheffee's second goal.

After Stayner pulled their goalie with 30 seconds left in the game, Drew Bishop scored into the empty net to put the Huskies ahead 8 - 6.

The Huskies play at home against Gravenhurst at 8 o'clock Saturday night and host Huntsville at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

The slap of the brooms and the rumble of the rocks permeated the air as the Minden Curling Club began its third season in their attractive new facility.

There seems to be an upsurge in the sport this season as the combined senior and general membership for the first schedule approaches the two hundred and fifty mark.

Diligent work by Sharon Kernohan, Anita Beaver and Dwight Thomas has brought in many new members while even more are expected for the second half of the season.

The Senior club has played two games each already with the Men's League boasting fourteen teams and the Mixed League icing an equal complement of teams.

The Monday Ladies League opened their schedule last week with six of the seven teams in action. Cheryl Murdoch posted a 4-3 victory over Toos Reid while Lois Titus and Bev Wood battled to a 4-4 draw. The third contest saw Marion Anderson prevailing with a 7-3 triumph over Sharon Kernohan.

The Thursday Mixed League has seven teams this schedule while the Friday Mixed League boasts nine entries. Thursday evening saw Bob Austin dominate Jerry Pillsworth 8-1 while Lorne Heise and Bill Roodenburg played to a 3-3 stalemate. The other joust saw J.O. Jackson overcome Jim Burton by a 5-2 count.

Three of a scheduled four games were played Friday evening with the Alex Kernohan-Bill Dillon match postponed to a later date. Paul Prentice put in a story performance defeating Barry Marshall 9-4 while Bill Obee topped Ron Reid 7-3. The final match saw John Dicker post a narrow victory over Don Blakey, however the score was not available at press time.

In the works is an afternoon ladies league combining the women of the Seniors and General membership clubs. Hopefully more will be known about this in the near future.

New law protects infants

A new law came into effect November 1 regarding seat belt restraints for young children. The following press release from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications outlines the reasons for the new law and what parents must do to comply with it.

Small children are particularly vulnerable in a car, especially in a sudden stop or crash.

And who hasn't seen cars whizzing by with youngsters standing on the seat, hanging out the window or lying on the back window shelf.

Well, on November 1 these potentially dangerous situations should be greatly curtailed as some 90,000 toddlers now travelling unrestrained in a motor vehicle, are required by Ontario law to be placed in car seats designed to hold them safely and securely.

From the date, toddlers between 9 and 18 kg. (20-40 lbs.) must be in an appropriate, approved car seat while travelling in their parents' or legal guardian's car—or in a lap belt if in someone else's car.

They must be restrained in a front-facing seat, preferably in the back of the car, with the harness straps done up and the seat secured by a lap belt and tether strap.

The tether strap is particularly important because it prevents the seat from pitching forward or sideways in a sudden stop or crash. It requires a bolt to be securely fastened into the back window shelf or floor, directly behind the child seat.

For parents looking for a car seat, there are different kinds available in a variety of stores and all meet federal standards.

It's particularly important to look for an approved car seat since other seats designed for use in the home are often available in the same location in a store.

However, such seats which are usually cheaper than a car seat, are not designed as car seats and do not provide the necessary protection.

Because of the variety of seats available, the appropriate one can only be chosen by parents after careful consideration as to which best suits them and their child.

For example, the seat must fit easily into the car and the harness buckle must be convenient to do up and undo. If the buckle is a struggle, parents may not take the time to buckle their child in properly.

Seats also come in a variety of widths and heights so it's well to remember youngsters spend many months in bulky snowsuits and choose accordingly.

Choosing an appropriate seat is important, but equally important is following the manufacturer's instructions as to installation and use. Lives have been lost because these seats have not been used properly.

The facts speak for themselves.

An 18-month old child was killed instantly when thrown from a car in an accident. Mute testimony to what might have been had he been properly buckled in, was the seat which remained, intact and undamaged, in the car.

In another case, a 22-month old child died of severe head injuries—in spite of being securely strapped in the proper seat. An investigation revealed the seat was not secured to the car by either a lap belt or a tether strap.

These are examples of cases where children have been killed and does not reflect the tragedy of those who have been severely injured or maimed for life.

Perhaps the saddest fact is that small children are particularly prone to head injuries and can be left brain damaged and helpless for life after a car accident.

In 1982, 10 children under four years of age were killed in Ontario traffic accidents and 1,324 were injured. Even though the law covering infant restraints only went into effect on November 1, 1982, these figures are considerably better than corresponding figures for 1981 when 20 were killed and 1,595 were injured.

Hopefully, as parents comply with the law which now requires all children to be properly restrained, these figures will improve even more, and the heartbreak and suffering hidden in such stark statistics will be greatly lessened.

The Ontario law regarding car seats was introduced in two stages: first for the newborn and preschooler on November 1, 1982 and now for the toddler.

This was done to allow parents, with several small children, time to absorb the cost of outfitting their youngsters with the appropriate car seats.

Thus, for almost a year now, infants up to 9 kg (20 lbs.) have been required to travel at all times in a rear-facing infant carrier or the infant position of a convertible seat designed for both infants and toddlers.

Infants must be fastened into their seat using the total harness strap and the seat must be securely anchored by a lap belt.

And preschoolers, between 18 and 23 kg (40 to 50 lbs.), must be secured by a lap belt. If they prefer to be raised so they can see out the window, preschoolers have the option of using a properly buckled up booster seat.

Drivers are responsible for ensuring children up to 16 years of age are either in an appropriate child seat or properly buckled up in lap belts or full seat belts. Older teenagers and adults are responsible for buckling themselves in.

Now everyone from newborns to senior citizens is covered by Ontario's child restraint and seat belt laws.

The service in the chapel Sunday night had a different twist. We had the Pettit family from Bancroft to assist. We were glad, not only for ourselves but for Rev. Burgess' sake, for he had taken the services at Haliburton and Eagle Lake. Harold Thompson read the lesson and also led in prayer.

Rev. Burgess introduced the Pettit family. They took over from there, with mother on the organ and the three violinists playing sacred numbers, we were truly blessed. Rev. Burgess sat and enjoyed it getting much needed rest.

Well, Hallowe'en Funday is over and what a day - at 9:30 down at the gym a game we did play. We were divided into two lines B and A, the A's turn they would trim the B line's pride but when the game was over, we tied, there in the afternoon to see who would win, we went searching for spooky things all around the gym, when this was done we ended up tied again.

Now readers please sit up and listen, first prize for best dressed lady was won by Wilbur Sisson. Some had lovely costumes, all different shades. We were treated to donuts and lemonade then after supper kiddies looking so sweet started coming in for trick or treat. A big thank you we would like to say to our girls for planning this Hallowe'en fun day.

Tuesday morning Rev. George Elliott of Minden Anglican Church conducted a communion service in the chapel here, sorry we were detained and could not attend.

Betty Hardy takes over office duties here some weekends and Monday nights to keep everything ticking and do the job just right.

Tuesday afternoon instead of card games Doris showed movies "He is not the walking kind", "A journey in Indonesia" and "The sweater" we didn't see them or we could explain better.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Kerr called on us Tuesday, they were our good neighbours when we lived out that way, he cuts wood buys it in the log, they live in a lovely home near the shore of Lake Kushog.

Tuesday night Daryl Crowe played and sang and entertained us fine, said he would be back in a month's time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cooper and Muriel Brown from Brantford called on us this Wednesday, always so glad to see them when they are up this way.

The tea party was served Thursday by the Minden Women's Institute, a real tasty lunch, no one could dispute. We thank them for coming and look forward to when they will be coming back to see us again.

We would like to pay tribute to our Millie Wood who is always trying to do someone good, from morning till night she knits and she talks whether mitts, chaircovers or socks, she sends cards to all who have birthdays here, to bring the lonely some little cheer, send sympathy cards to the relatives of the one who has passed on telling them how sorry we are that they are gone - some day the Lord God will say Millie come up higher, you are wanted to sing in the Heavenly Choir.

Friday afternoon we had our Christmas Bazaar and bake sale. Nice lunch and a cup of tea served by the members of the Auxiliary, our ladies also had a long table of lovely items that looked really nice that you could purchase, provided you had the price. The pictures were won by Madeline Hartin since she is so proud of them, from them she won't be parted in spite of wintry weather.

With a good crowd we were truly blessed, so our Christmas Bazaar was a real success.

Arnie Wright has been gone all week with back trouble hope she will soon feel better. She is one who types each Monday our senior letter.

"Wings"

The little cares of every day
The tiny humdrum things
May bind my feet where I stray
But still my heart has wings
While red geraniums are Pressed against my window glass
And low above my green
sweet hills
The Gypsy wind clouds pass.

by Yvonne Guida

Dear Readers,

First I would like to express my deep appreciation to the wonderful staff at the Minden Red Cross Hospital for their great care during my recent stay and also to my doctor Dr. Antony Holliday-Rhodes. He is a very dedicated doctor and I am happy to count him as a friend. I've never seen a doctor work as hard as he does, and yet he always has a smile for everyone, and I have seen him at all hours, all I can say is God bless him.

I don't know if you're familiar with the song - My Life for a Song - sung by the magnificent tenor Placido Domingo. If you stop to think of the words, it really brings you up short. I have been criticized by certain people for daring to speak my mind, but that's the way I am and I'm darn well not going to change. I get incensed at the injustice that takes place on this earth, that's why I feel I am a darn good poet, because I try to get my point across. Placido is trying in his way to right as many wrongs as I am in my humble way to do the same. When I am in my shroud I pass the responsibility to someone else. I was incensed at the horrible massacre in Germany at the Olympic Games a few years ago and all the senseless killing that has taken place since then. Bigotry and injustice just goes on and on. I guess if you can't live with your neighbour be he black, white or blue why bother. This is the consensus. Poets cry their tears and souls to the empty air! Perhaps sometime something will catch on. If you're fighting in a trench, and you turn around and see a black man trying to save your life what the — does it matter about his colour. All my life I have been a maverick because I don't care about a person's skin. If he is a good man he's good no matter what. I came out of the hospital gratefully but as feisty as ever. I also agree with Ronald Reagan. Canada, get your head out of the sand. Incidentally, I have received accolades for my poetry from former President Ford and Ronald and Nancy Reagan which I think is quite a plum.

I came out of my house recently and looked at a sky full of stars and I thought, what a beautiful world (I am very proud of this country). I know the Dakotas are considered the big sky, but ours is just as big and wonderful. The mammoth clouds that meander by, I could watch them for hours. The tremendous thunderheads that thrust up to infinity. God gave us such magnificent splendour why do we destroy His handiwork. Why can't man live his life in tranquility and leave his neighbour alone. Sometimes I think He should have left this earth to the animals. At least they only kill when ravenous!

The Lydia Group of the UCW will meet at the home of Jenny Hagan, Tuesday, November 15 at 7:45 p.m.

For the next weeks remember the luncheon, bazaar and bake sale at the Minden United Church on Friday, November 18, from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The St. Paul's Choir is holding a card party on Monday, November 14 at 8 p.m., in the Parish Hall. Bridge, Euchre and Cribbage will be played. Prizes will be awarded and a lunch will be served. Admission is $1.00. Everyone is welcome to attend.

An Epitaph for Fallen Heroes

The shots rang out across the world
Reverberating still amid the banners
Left unfurled
Upon fair German soil.
Oh God, what monsters we have wrought
Where did it say "The meek inherit the good earth?"
Where do the meek lie now?
We do not worship God, but Gods,
Vainglorious greed and avarice,
Our great technology -
Turn a deaf ear to cause of men
Our conquest of the moon
A driving goal - not cries
Of those with empty bellies.
Nor those young men like Gods
Who died too soon
Both on the field of battle and in sport -
When will it end - this eye for eye
And tooth for tooth -
When will our swords become plowshares
When will man his neighbour as himself?
How long, oh God
Before blind eyes that will not see
No man can be an island, none goes his way alone
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back into our own.
Take heed lest God leave us in an inferno.

Yvonne

I wish the new executive board of the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery all the best. I'm sure they will have some very interesting showings in the near future. Do support the Gallery. It needs all the help it can get.

On November-28th I will be travelling to New York for the opening of Irwin Karnick's show, Transportation, a personal view. Irwin has asked me to act as his agent, which I am very pleased about. It will involve quite a bit of travelling. I will act as Artistic Director for the show at Adelphi University and I am confident it will be a big success. Irwin is a genius in photography.

Please keep in mind the country Christmas bazaar, bake sale and luncheon to be held at St. Paul's on November 25th. Admission is $5.00 for adults and $2.50 for children. Raffle tickets are being sold on an afghan, which is the first prize, 2 embroidered pillowcases second prize, and a knitted pillowcase will be the third prize. Tickets for the draw are 50¢ each or three for $1.00.

Heartiest congratulations to Mrs. Jean Lacey of Minden who has finally received her diploma in Horticultural Judging. Well done Jean!

Winners of the Mini Card Party last Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Parish Hall were for Euchre - lone hands, on a cut - Shirley Elcome and Johann Beattie and Charlotte O'Neil and for Cribbage - Florence Schlosser and Jeanne Sears.

Women's Institute meeting is at Cultural Centre on November 16 at 2 p.m. with a demonstration and an auction.

Don't forget the free movies at the Common Room for adults at 2 p.m. and children at 7:15 - 8:15 p.m. every Friday.

Here is another puzzle for you. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Agnes Jamieson Gallery The Art of War - or War Art

Both are vividly displayed in our current exhibition. The artistic ability of John Leonard is a feast for your eyes, but the subject matter can bring tears to them. It is fitting at this time of year, with war being waged in all parts of the world, to remember the horrors as well as the heroes. Our exhibition of "Wars" will be at the gallery until November 19th.

November 24, 25 and 26th the gallery will be filled with lovely sights and marvelous smells of our Christmas decorations, stocking stuffers and bake sale. Do come and have tea with us also.
